

Cockburn Soundings

DECEMBER 2009

2009 preserved in time

A time capsule celebrating 30 years of Cockburn as a city has been preserved for future generations in a special ceremony at the Cockburn Seniors Centre.

Stored near the wooden honour boards, the time capsule was unveiled by City of Cockburn CEO Stephen Cain and Mayor Logan K Howlett on Monday, October 26.

The 500mm x 150mm capsule contains a computer memory stick featuring significant photographs, electronic versions of Cockburn Soundings, the 2007-08 annual report, Summer of Fun calendar, current City of Cockburn staff list and information about Cockburn's sister cities, events, developments, infrastructure and people, as well as the latest magazine version of Growing Cockburn, communications material and 30th anniversary memorabilia.

Cockburn officially became a city on October 26, 1979, after its original inception as the Fremantle District Roads Board in 1871, becoming the Cockburn Roads Board in 1955, Cockburn Shire Council in 1961 and Town of Cockburn in 1971.

"This first-ever time capsule for the City of Cockburn will provide a fascinating snapshot of how far we have come in the past 30 years as a city, preserving history for future generations to enquire about and reflect on," Cockburn Mayor Logan K Howlett said.

Works begin on Coogee Beach facility

Work has officially begun on the $9.9 million Coogee Integrated Community Facility at Poore Grove, marked by a sod-turning ceremony for the planned development.

A joint venture between the City of Cockburn and Coogee Beach Surf Lifesaving Club, the $3 million Stage 1a works include earthworks and site works, construction of a new car park, beach access pathways and dual-use paths, power, water and sewerage services, car park lighting, landscaped areas, fencing and gates, irrigation, shade structures, barbecues, a drink fountain and a beach shower.

The contract for the works was awarded to Industrial Roadpavers in September and $2 million to help fund the project was provided by the Federal Government's community infrastructure program.

An artist's impression of the new facility.

Subsequent stages will include the construction of the new two-storey surf lifesaving club building and community facility, gym, changerooms, meeting rooms, kitchen and public kiosk.

"Once the entire project is complete, there will be state-of-the-art surf lifesaving facilities and improved access to Coogee Beach for the public, including people with disabilities," City of Cockburn CEO Stephen Cain said.

Coogee Beach Surf Lifesaving Club president Sharee Hart said club membership had grown from 230 to 630 in the past seven years and was continuing to grow.

"As our club membership, resources and presence on the beach increases, so does our need for better facilities and this new integrated facility will help to meet that demand," she said.

Put your heart into TravelSmart

Residents across the City of Cockburn are set to enjoy more physical activity, help the environment and save themselves money, thanks to the appointment of a new TravelSmart officer.

The position is the result of a partnership between the City of Cockburn and Department of Transport, designed to help people find ways of getting around by using their cars less and increasing the amount they walk, cycle and use public transport.

"TravelSmart has proven to be an overwhelming success at many other local councils, making an important contribution to promoting sustainability at a local level," TravelSmart Officer Gilly Street said.

Already, locals have stepped out with the pedometer challenge at the Rotary Cockburn Spring Fair and the Fremantle-Cockburn TravelSmart Trek, as part of Walk Week.

The TravelSmart program is linked with Be Active Cockburn, which has information and helpful hints available at www.beactivecockburn.com.au.

Message from the Mayor

In the year that Cockburn celebrates its 30th anniversary as a City, I am honoured to have been re-elected as your Mayor and look forward to serving the Cockburn community for the next four years.

I take this opportunity to congratulate Crs Kevin Allen (Deputy Mayor), Tony Romano, Val Oliver and Lee-Anne Smith, on their re-election and Cr Robyn O'Brien on her election to Council.

Our City's strong financial and debt-free position, approach to strategic planning, steadily increasing rate base, provision of a comprehensive range of social and community services backed by a committed staff are the strengths that the new Council will need to build on to ensure that Cockburn retains its position as a strong and robust community.

The referendum question on an amalgamation with the City of Fremantle received a resounding "thumbs-down" response and reflected the general position of elected members. In addition, local government reform is not about neighbouring councils "cherry-picking" areas that may return them a higher rate base to the detriment of the Cockburn community and we will strongly defend our boundaries.

On another note, it would appear that people power and commonsense has finally prevailed with the recent announcement that the infill sewerage program is back on track. While the government needs to be applauded for its decision, the biggest accolades go to the residents who took up the challenge with the support and leadership of the Spearwood Community Association. All that is needed now is the arrival of contractors on site to finish the job that many have been waiting 40 years to occur.

In closing, I thank the elected members, staff, volunteers and the Cockburn community for their contributions towards making Cockburn a place of destination, increasing importance and vibrancy in Western Australia. My best wishes for a happy and safe festive season and a 2010 that realises your personal dreams and aspirations and those of your family.

Bibra Lake Fun Run Winners

About 800 people huffed and puffed their way around Bibra Lake on Sunday 13 September, as part of the annual fun run.

With a variety of individuals, schools, sporting clubs, corporate teams, parents with prams and dogs on a leash taking part, they chose a 6km walk or run around the lake with staff from South Lake Leisure Centre helping them to warm-up beforehand.

Xander Van Rijen, of Joondalup, came first in the male open division, followed by Murdoch resident Steven Marshall, while Sandra Vosenek, also of Joondalup, took out the female open division with Palmyra resident Samantha Flanders coming in second.

In the under-17s section, Jandakot resident Sam Monaghan won the male section, followed by Matthew Elwell of Waikiki. Myaree resident Kate Holt took out the female section, followed by Penny Kent, of Kardinya.

Among the under-12s, Spearwood resident Evan Gaudet was first among the males, followed by Justin Davies, of Yangebup. Banjup resident Emily Hadwiger was first in the female section, followed by Annie Tubby of Cockburn Central.

Bibra Lake Primary School won a laptop from The Good Guys for being the school with the largest amount of entrants.

The $5 registration fee required on the day was waived with people asked to make a charity donation instead and $418 was raised to help those with cerebral palsy.

Thousands flock to Rotary Cockburn Spring Fair

More than 10,000 people flocked to the annual Rotary Cockburn Spring Fair in Hamilton Hill's Manning Park in October, as part of two anniversary celebrations.

The City of Cockburn has celebrated its 30th anniversary in 2009 while the Rotary Club of Cockburn has also chalked up a 40-year milestone.

With warm weather bringing people from near and far, the day-long event had an array of free activities catering for all ages such as the Incredible Creatures Animal Farm, Radio Rally Cars Off-Road Competition, Mayoral Cup Petanque Competition, Leyland Cars Celebrating 50 Years and the Mini Owners Club of WA, among many others.

Live performances came from a plethora of acts including the Ozmosis Street Band, MSJ Productions, Jelly Bellie Dancers, vocalist Eloise Kirk, acoustic guitarist and vocalist Matt Larsen, Ibis, hip hop artist Carlos Sanchez and Aboriginal dance group Wadumbah.

A doughnut-eating competition brought out the hungry masses to see who could eat 10 doughnuts in the quickest time – with 15-year-old Sofia-Seika Ammoun, of Hamilton Hill, the ultimate winner.

Teenager Teagan Richardson jumped, danced and ran her way to 9295 steps in the City of Cockburn TravelSmart pedometer challenge, beating last year's record of 7725 to win a $500 bike from Taylors Bikeshop.

Jessica Hilsley, of Bedfordale, was runner-up with 8527 steps, followed by Mark Nadilo, of Spearwood, Kathleen Miller and Chris Adams, of South Lake, who all achieved more than 7000 steps and scored ECOtanka stainless steel drink bottles for their efforts.

This year's fair was held in conjunction with the Frosh Youth Festival and included several additional Frosh activities including laser tag, horizontal bungee-jumping and a bucking bull.

Furry fun for everyone at Teddy Bears' Picnic

Toddlers who went down into the Manning Park woods on 28 October were sure of a big surprise – but, unlike the famous song, they didn't need a disguise to enjoy the annual City of Cockburn Teddy Bears' Picnic.

Catering for children aged up to six, the popular free event is part of the Summer of Fun season and attracted more than 1000 parents, grandparents, carers and teachers with young children and their teddies in tow.

Even patches of periodic rain didn't dampen spirits, as children enjoyed cookie decorating, egg-painting, live entertainment, bouncy castles, sand cards, make-your-own hula-hoop activities, a teddy photo booth, face painting, an animal farm, bubble blowing, a jumble sale and a range of informative stalls.

Become a DIY graffiti remover now!

Are you sick of seeing graffiti on your fence, in your local park and on the street? Well, now you can help keep Cockburn beautiful by becoming a DIY graffiti remover.

The City of Cockburn has introduced a new initiative to get the community involved in tackling graffiti with free graffiti removal kits. Each free kit contains a pair of gloves and three single "Safewipe" pouches and three single "Afterwipe" pouches that you can easily keep in your bag or at home.

So when you're out with the kids, walking the dog or catching a bus and you spot some graffiti, simply grab a graffiti removal sachet and give a little rub. These special wipes remove graffiti from nearly all types of surfaces and are very easy to use.

Graffiti removal Kits are available free-of-charge at your local library, City Administration Building and Community Safety Services Office.

For more information please contact the City on 9411 3641.

Letting the sunshine in...

A new solar array has been added to the Cockburn Youth Centre, helping to reduce greenhouse gases and increase public awareness about renewable energy production.

The $47,570 photovoltaic system became a feasible option for the centre, following a positive report from the Southern Metropolitan Regional Council last year, because the solar panels could face north to receive a maximum amount of sunlight.

The City of Cockburn recognised the need to invest in sustainable energy, as part of its ongoing commitment to the environment and green-friendly practices.

Low on maintenance, the solar array generates about 25 kilowatt hours of energy each day, reducing the centre's reliance on power from the State's main energy supplier.

Life's a beach for wheelchair users

As summer approaches, we are all beginning to think about going to the beach for a swim and to enjoy the waves. If you use a wheelchair, you can access the beach trekker wheelchair from the surf lifesavers at Coogee Beach. The beach trekker is available during beach patrol times on Saturdays 10am to 1pm, Sundays 8am to 3pm and public holidays 10am to 1pm.

To book...

1½ hour time slots can be booked in advance by contacting the City of Cockburn's Booking Officer on 9411 3432 or by asking a lifesaver at Coogee Beach. There is no charge for wheelchair use – however, ID and contact details are required. If you have any further queries, please contact our Disability Access and Inclusion Officer on 9411 3502.

Official opening of “synthetic greens” at Spearwood Bowling

Spearwood Bowling Club now has synthetic greens with Cockburn Mayor Logan K Howlett unveiling a special plaque in honour of the event

To ensure the ongoing viability of the club, given the current weather and economic climate, the decision was made and wholly-supported by the 90 bowling members to change from a grass surface to a synthetic surface.

They also sought to enhance its standing in the Bowls WA pennant competition with the new playing surface.

The benefit of synthetic greens is:

1. Dramatic drop in water usage.
2. Eliminates the use of fertiliser and pesticides.
3. Surface can be played on in almost any weather condition.
4. Cost-saving to club.
5. Ability to run more community events, along the lines of the already successful Community Bowls event on summer evenings.

The City of Cockburn helped to fund the project.

Rates Roundup

The due date to pay your 2009/2010 Council Rates was 18 August, 2009, and if your account was not paid in full at that time, you should have chosen to pay by the instalment options.

Reminder notices were issued on 17 November for the next instalment payment, due on 15 December, 2009. Those electing to pay by this option method must ensure their payment is made by this date to avoid late payment penalty interest.

Council's ongoing debt collection is focusing on ratepayers who did not select an instalment option AND do not have a payment arrangement in place. It should be noted your account is now well overdue, accruing daily penalty interest and needs to be finalised as soon as possible to avoid legal proceedings.

It is in your best interests to contact Rates Services on 9411 3444 if you are experiencing financial difficulties, in order to discuss an alternative payment arrangement.

Cockburn Financial Counselling Services are available by calling 9414 6302 or 9331 1174.

All changes of address and/or ownership must be in writing, either by mail, email (rates@cockburn.wa.gov.au) or fax 9411 3568.

Getting ready for the fire season

South Coogee Bush Fire Brigade volunteers are preparing for the fire season with fuel-reduction burns so residents can be ready to deal with a dry summer.

On call to respond at all hours, they provide a priceless service to the City of Cockburn and anywhere else they are needed. In recent years, the brigade has fought fires in the South West, Jurien Bay and Kings Park.

Ongoing training in fire-fighting techniques, equipment use, first aid, four-wheel-driving and safety allows fire-fighters to become familiar with all the functions and duties required of them. Members are also able to nominate for advanced courses at the FESA Fire Training School in winter.

The South Coogee Bush Fire Brigade is jointly funded by the City of Cockburn and FESA, allowing for modern and regularly-updated equipment that helps volunteers tackle the variety of hazards that can be present at a fire. To find out more, email scfbf@inet.net.au.

Industrial commitment to sustainability

The City of Cockburn’s industrial premises program is now into its second year – and small and medium-sized businesses are responding to the push to improve environmental management standards.

Integrated Fuel Services Bibra Lake premises has installed the latest oil separation technology at its new de-gas and washdown bay, allowing liquid waste to meet strict discharge standards while maximising the process water re-use option and producing a cleaner by-product for waste oil recycling.

“The community has a right to expect higher environmental standards from business,” Integrated Fuels manager Matt Colvin said. “We work constantly on improving our practices and welcome the challenge to develop our business as a sustainable enterprise.

“The facility allows us to de-gas and clean customer tankers faster, is safer to operate for our employees and employs the latest technology to help with our sustainability goals.”

Cockburn staff “Sizzle in Slippers” for Anti-Poverty Week

On 13 October, City of Cockburn staff came to work in slippers, reminding them the luxuries they have at home are not always the luxuries that everyone else has.

Thousands of Australians go without a bed every day and the City’s Support Services Team held a “Sizzle in Slippers” event to raise awareness of the issue of poverty in our community and raise money for Anti-Poverty Week.

With a dynamic team consisting of support services ladies, and Cherie, the cook from the Cockburn Seniors

Centre, 200 bacon and egg rolls were cooked up and sold for $2.

After all this, still in their pyjamas and slippers, the ladies set off looking for donations. The City’s staff raised $565 in donations with Council matching the amount, making a total $1130.

Many thanks must go to DON KRC – the home of Watsonia for donating 20kg of bacon, as well as Baker’s Delight Gateways for donating the 200 buns needed. Without these donations, the breakfast wouldn’t have been possible.

Cockburn Youth Centre marks its first birthday

The Cockburn Youth Centre celebrated its first year of operation with a community party on October 3, offering a cavalcade of free activities.

The first birthday celebrations included amusement rides, a skate competition, youth class performances and showcases, a barbecue, youth bands and a performance from Perth hip-hop act Downsyde.

The $6 million Cockburn Youth Centre has become a hub for young people living and working in the area over the past year, offering a range of recreational and social programs that aim to support the personal and professional development of young people.

Since it opened, more than 10,000 people have used the centre – the largest youth facility in WA – with the majority aged between 10 and 16.

The double-level, state-of-the-art building includes a fully-equipped, soundproof recording studio, IT room with internet access, gaming consoles, a basketball ring, skate area, an all-purpose space for young people and a theatre area.

It also accommodates staff from the City of Cockburn's Youth Services, as well as other young services in Cockburn, offering a chance for young people to seek career and health advice at the same venue, as part of the centre's co-tenancy arrangement.

Other agencies working from the Cockburn Youth Centre include Youth Reach South, the Cockburn Volunteer Resource Centre, St John of God and Challenger TAFE.
