Message from the Mayor

As the excitement of the City's activities over the summer drift from our memories why not take the opportunity to explore the rich and diverse heritage of our City.

From walks through the Beeliar wetlands and Banksia woodlands to our coastline, there are amazing stories that bring alive times past and the people who have influenced the growth of our City.

On 19 February I had great pleasure in launching the new website named 'Cockburn History'. The website includes new research that seeks to uncover less known aspects of our history and complements information held in our libraries, on the Municipal Heritage Inventory and in the book 'Cockburn – the Making of a Community'. There's also a visit to the Azelia Ley Homestead Museum, Manning Park to discover the many artefacts and displays that help to paint a further picture of life in an emerging community over the past one hundred years.

On another note, the City of Cockburn RSL Sub-Branch ANZAC Youth Parade and Service will be held on Thursday 11 April 2019, commencing with a parade from Council grounds at 9.45am followed by the official service at the RSL Memorial Park adjacent to Beale Park on Spearwood Avenue at 10am.

The RSL Cockburn Sub Branch will again be conducting a dawn service at the Hamilton Hill Memorial on ANZAC Day and a march by and service commencing at 9.45am at the same venue. Members of the public are encouraged to attend each service.

On behalf of the Elected Members and staff I take this opportunity to convey our best wishes to your family and friends for Easter and to remind drivers to be vigilant on the roads during the school holidays. Remember to slow down, take rest breaks if travelling in the countryside and to avoid alcohol when driving.

My Suburb

If you want to keep abreast of things happening in your area, visit cockburn.wa.gov.au/mysuburb. You can search by suburb to view projects that have started or will be starting in the 2018/2019 financial year.

Cockburn Cultural Fair

You may remember him from Channel 10's 2018 MasterChef; join Perth culinary-pro, Brendan Pang as he does a live cooking demo at this year's Cultural Fair. Brendan will cook up a storm with something quick and easy that you can do at home plus you'll even get a taste of what he serves up! Live from 4.30pm.

Something for the kids and young at heart

There is something for everyone and this year you can go go-karting with Go Kartz, Camel Rides with Calamunnda Camel Farm, get your very own caricature done, create some sandcards, face painting, henna, basket weaving, play with the animals at the Incredible Creatures Animal Farm and with Critters up Close.

Cockburn's Cultural Fair brings to you the opportunity to experience just some of the many cultures that call Cockburn home. We hope you and your family can come along to this free and fun event. See page 8 for details.

Brendan Pang gets creative

Must-see Cultural Fair highlights

- Taiko Japanese Drums, the name is not only a team cry to strive and put all of one's energy and focus into the drums, but to resonate with the meaning "Sound of the Drum". The members of this dynamic troupe are drawn from a wide variety of backgrounds and come together to study and display their love of the Japanese drums to the wider Perth audience, from 3pm
- Get ready for a graceful performance from the Chinese Folk Dancers who will showcase their traditional dancing from 2.30pm
- Cooking demonstration with Brendan Pang. We are excited to have him cook at this year's Cultural Fair live from 4.30pm
- Get into the yodeling mood with Alpen Duo from 3.10pm.

Top Cultural Fair tips

- More than 2,000 people are expected to attend so get in early to visit all the activities and stalls
- Walking, riding or using public transport will be the easiest way to get to the event
- Be sun smart and pack a hat and sunscreen
- Activities are free, however bring cash on the day to use at the stalls!

Support funding for more sport & recreation facilities

The City is part of Growth Areas Perth & Peel (GAPP), one of 11 outer metro Perth councils aiming to improve the liveability and desirability of their communities by lobbying the Federal Government for the development of a special purpose fund for high quality sport and recreation facilities. The City's focus is improved facilities and recreation space at Dixon Reserve, Hamilton Hill.

How can you help?

As we continue to lobby the Federal Government to contribute to the fund in the lead up to the Federal election this year, we ask if you could please help us by:

- Leaving a message of support on our website: gapp.org.au/Contact
- Spreading the word among your friends and sporting club to leave a message of support on our website.

Discover Cockburn History

Did you know there is buried treasure in Hamilton Hill or that Cockburn's first soccer team was formed in Jandakot in 1914? Ever wondered how market gardeners got all their planting done while the men were away at war? Find out all the interesting things about our great City by visiting our newly launched Cockburn History website, history.cockburn.wa.gov.au

Visitors to the interactive site can take a tour through yesteryear and learn about Cockburn's industrial, Aboriginal, migration, sporting and wartime history.

Joint efforts between Cockburn libraries, Azelia Ley Museum, Cockburn Historical Society and volunteers have seen the photographic, video, oral histories and the earliest editions of Cockburn Soundings digitised over the years and they are now available to view on this website.

The site encourages the reader to contribute their historical knowledge of the area by submitting information through online forms found under each article.

For further information contact history@cockburn.wa.gov.au or call Spearwood Library on 08 9411 3800.

Business Engagement Update

The City of Cockburn is proud to be partnering with some great organisations to provide free and low cost training and development opportunities for local businesses. Check out cockburn.wa.gov.au/business for information on upcoming events on topics such as:

- Digital marketing
- Director duties and governance
- Business essentials
- Financial management and cash flow
- Commercial tenancy
- Human resources.

If you would like us to offer training on a specific topic or theme, contact the City's Business Engagement Officer Sarah Kahle at business@cockburn.wa.gov.au

Tracey Kilian leading her community towards great things

Community Leaders in Cockburn

Tracey Kilian was inspired to take on the role of president of Connecting South Lake, a local resident group, after attending free leadership training at the City.

"The training helped me work and build relationships with different types of people, businesses and organisations. I gained skills to help our group embrace and withstand change and move forward in a constructive way. It was a fun and relaxing day spent sharing and learning from other community group representatives".

Tracey said the Leadership Skills Development workshop was a useful and interesting event. She acknowledges that volunteer community groups are vitally important in the community and recognises that there are unique challenges, opportunities and rewards coming from involvement in such groups.

Next workshop

The City's Community Development team is holding its next workshop in Community Leadership Skills Saturday 4 May. The following topics will be covered:

- Team building / leading teams
- Confidence building
- Facilitation skills – leading meetings
- Chairing.

Local residents are invited to submit an expression of interest to take part in this free program. For further information or to register, contact the Community Development team communitydevelopment@cockburn.wa.gov.au

A Market for Giving

The Cockburn Giving Market is an exciting and fun event that will be held outside Big W at Cockburn Gateway Shopping City, Saturday 25 May, 9am-5pm, to celebrate National Volunteer Week.

Following on from the success of last year's first Giving Market, Cockburn Volunteer Resource Centre will host this enjoyable free event for all ages. This year's theme, "Make a World of Difference".

Local Cockburn residents will have the opportunity to learn about volunteering and how to get involved. A diverse range of volunteer organisations will promote their causes, sell fundraising items and host interactive displays to engage the community. Come down and encourage our community to make a world of difference. Better still, get involved and volunteer because you can make a world of difference!

For more information contact the Cockburn Volunteer Resource Centre on 08 9411 3490 or email volunteering@cockburn.wa.gov.au

(L-R) Sid with his brother Erik the Brave urge dog owners to scoop the poop

The Scoop on Poop

What is your first reaction when you see poop left on the ground?

Errr gross! I mean if my humans step in it I have to listen to them moaning and groaning forever about how wrong it is that someone didn't pick it up!

What is the worst example you have seen when out and about?

Another dog about to eat it, I mean c'mon I like to recycle, but not my food! Plus I like small humans, only not when they smear it on their face even if they find it funny... ewww germs!

What is the consensus among your mates on this matter?

Everyone gets caught out occasionally, but it is 100% up to our people to have our backs and pick it up. We don't want our people fined $100. Think of all the toys, dog washes and pooch pedicures we would miss out on!

What is the right thing to do with your poop Erik?

Well it's pretty obvious isn't it? Our pet humans need to scoop the poop using the free compostable poo bags where available, or the normal plastic poo bags located throughout the City, and put it in the general waste bin. That way, everyone wins.

Any last words Erik?

Yeah actually while I am on a roll, the Ammo Jetty to Woodman Point part of Coogee Beach - friends, you can only walk there if on a lead! It's not that I get scared because I'm Erik the Brave, but my owner gets really scared for us both when charged by other dogs who are not on leads.

Cockburn all GO in waste revolution

We are in the grip of a waste revolution, and the City of Cockburn is a GO (Garden Organics) council, but what does this mean?

It means we provide a GO bin with a lime green lid especially for garden clippings, to properties 400sqm and above as part of the state-wide roll out of the three bin system.

Local household garden waste is transformed into saleable, high-quality mulch to help fund more projects, services and infrastructure in the community.

Councils like Melville, which have chosen the Food Organics Garden Organics (FOGO) method, can accept food and garden waste in their waste bin, but this is not the method chosen by Cockburn.

Organic food waste and kitty litter should not be put in Cockburn's lime green lid bin because it will contaminate the mulch product, making it unsaleable.

The GO method was chosen by Cockburn because it costs less to process garden waste into mulch at HWRP and supply to compost producers, than having an external waste facility process the garden waste.

There are also limited facilities currently available to process FOGO economically.

The State Government's current waste levy, paid by local governments for each tonne of waste they landfill, is $70.

The City's goal is to reduce waste being sent to landfill which benefits the environment and our ratepayers.

While food and organic waste can be put into your general waste bin, there are other ways to keep it out of landfill altogether.

The City encourages householders to compost organic waste and offers a number of different composting, worm farming and Bokashi bin subsidies to help recycle your food waste in the home and give your garden a treat!

Climbing to the top

Anna Davey is a Hammond Park resident aiming to reach the peak of her field – quite literally.

Anna works in the legal department of the public sector, but after hours she is a passionate competitive climber. Spending 18 hours a week training, her hard work has begun to pay serious dividends and last year Anna was named Australia's No.1 female climber.

Anna is hoping to represent Australia on the international stage in the near future. However, there is no funding in Australia for competitive climbers. Athletes must pay their own way to travel to international competitions.

Luckily for Anna, that changed in February 2019 when the City awarded her a $1,000 sponsorship to compete at the International Federation of Sport Climbing - World Championships held in Tokyo.

Anna said that she was thrilled by the support from the City.

"When I was first selected to represent Australia, I wasn't sure if I could afford to attend. However, I have now covered my out of pocket expenses and am eternally grateful. I do have to resign from my work but I'll worry about that later and just live in the moment and follow my dreams."

---

Each year, through the Cockburn Community Fund, the City distributes more than $1m in financial support to local individuals, community groups and organisations for a wide range of activities and events.

Best of luck Anna! We look forward to seeing just how far up you can climb!

Anna climbing her way to the top

5 minutes with Cr Lara Kirkwood

1. Name a person/mentor who has positively impacted your role as a Councillor and how?

Cr Steve Portelli was an incredible community-minded man who long before his passion of Roe 8, went out of his way to provide me with valuable advice on the community and Neighbourhood Watch.

2. How should Cockburn look 20 years from now?

Ideally in 20 years our road networks will be improved where movement across the City is first class. Cockburn residents will have an even larger choice of local businesses to choose from in all parts of the City making mini hubs of activity.

3. What is a current life goal, big or small, that you are excited to achieve?

Aiming to achieve my goals of working towards a healthy, active and happy life starting with the Coogee Jetty to Jetty swim.

4. If you had to convince someone to move to Cockburn, what would you say?

Cockburn is the best place to live, our community is diverse yet inclusive and we can make friends through many avenues.

5. Which City of Cockburn event is your favourite, and why?

Australia Day Festival at Coogee Beach. It's an opportunity for our community to come together to celebrate being Australian regardless of our cultural differences.

Your information could help solve a crime

It is often confusing to know if you should report something, and if you do, what to report. No matter how trivial you think something is, it is important to report suspicious behaviour as your information helps to build the bigger picture, identify patterns and allocate resources.

What details should I provide?

Always give a good description with as much detail as possible:

- Time, date and location of incident
- Describe what is happening
- Describe the people involved (gender, age, hair colour, build, appearance)
- Registration and description of vehicle if a vehicle is involved (make, model, colour, any distinguishing features).

Please do not approach the offenders or put yourself in danger. Only take photos if it is safe to do so.

Who should I call?

- 000 (Emergency) – life threatening emergencies
- 131 444 (Police) – non-emergency situations that require police attendance
- 1300 333 000 (Crime Stoppers) – non emergency situations where immediate attendance is not required
- 1300 26 72 33 (CoSafe) – non emergency situations
